

Employee Policy Handbook

Sample Enterprise Knowledge Base Document

1. Introduction

This sample policy document is created for testing an enterprise Knowledge Base and Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) system. It contains structured information that can later be ingested, chunked, embedded, retrieved, and cited by the application.

2. Working Hours

Standard working hours are 9:30 AM to 6:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Employees should be available during core collaboration hours from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. Teams may define different schedules when required by business operations.

3. Attendance

Employees are expected to maintain regular attendance and inform their manager in advance when they cannot attend work. Repeated unplanned absences may require review by the employee's manager and the Human Resources department.

4. Leave Policy

Full-time employees receive 24 days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Leave requests should normally be submitted through the organization's leave management system at least three working days before the requested absence.

Employees may carry forward up to 5 unused annual leave days into the following calendar year. Any additional unused days require approval from Human Resources according to applicable company rules.

5. Sick Leave

Employees may take sick leave when they are unable to work because of illness. For an absence of more than two consecutive working days, the employee may be asked to provide appropriate supporting documentation.

6. Work From Home Policy

Eligible employees may work from home for up to 2 days per week, subject to team requirements and manager approval. Employees working remotely are responsible for maintaining a secure internet connection and protecting company information from unauthorized access.

7. Information Security

Employees must protect company information and must not share confidential documents, credentials, customer information, or internal data with unauthorized persons.

Company credentials must not be stored in plain-text files or shared through personal messaging accounts. Suspected security incidents should be reported to the IT Security team as soon as possible.

8. Employee Benefits

Eligible full-time employees may receive health insurance, learning and development support, and other benefits according to their employment category and applicable company programs.

9. Policy Ownership

The Human Resources department owns this policy document. Policy changes must be approved through the organization's internal policy review process. Employees should refer to the latest approved version when policy details conflict with older documents.
